FIVE LOOKS WITH:

Morgan Yakus

AGE: 33

JOB: Boutique owner and designer of a dress line, both called No. 6

WHAT'S YOUR STYLE?

"Bohemian, but with a modernist twist. I mix vintage and new, but the vintage I wear is more about adding an element of surprise or an interesting layering piece—it's for originality, not just to look 'vintage.' My mom loved to antique and thrift shop, and she started taking me to flea markets when I was 7. I was always trying to find things like vintage '50s jewelry and oversized men's jackets to add to my outfits à la Molly Ringwald in Pretty in Pink. I've shopped all across the U.S. and London and Paris looking for vintage—wherever the hunt takes me."

"I like the London '70s (as opposed to the American '70s), original Biba—and Jean Muir. She's one of my favorite designers."

1 "Right now I'm really into shorter dresses with a little bit of volume, so there's almost a sack shape, like with this Derek Lam dress. It's easy, but it looks fantastic."

"I grew up in Brooklyn and L.A., so I've always considered myself bicoastal, which has definitely affected my style."

2 "I'm feeling boyish mixed with feminine these days, so I like these shorts. It's the idea of mixing soft and hard so you're not girly from head to toe. A masculine edge feels new and fresh."
3.1 Phillip Lim shorts, $320, 212-645-6572

4 "It's important to have a great pair of shoes or a bag to make an outfit look modern, like these Chanel wingtips. I like a shoe that's a little harder, that ties up."
Chanel shoes, $680, 800-550-0005

3 "No. 6 dresses are tailored to create new shapes with vintage fabric. We make no more than 20 of each and all the dresses are numbered."

5 "I'm obsessed with Levi's and Topshop jeans. Levi's are the originals—they're very classic. At the moment, I'm looking for the perfect pair of oversized jeans. I'm all for a backlash against skinnies."
